

GET YOUR OWN BLOG

FLAG?

NEXT BLOG»

BlogThis!

Josh's Mischief Site

Into the inside...

Wednesday, November 30, 2005

More mischief...

Well we visted another silo this evening with some friends from school and it was in good condition. It was snowing like crazy and mad cold!!! Here are some pics of the crew...

Mikey at blast doors...

Climbing ladder to escape hatch

Second story of command center looking down wall into the first

Mikey and I both on escape ladder

That's a bunch of fellas

ALLL RIIIGHT

posted by Josh's Mischief Site at 8:53 PM

3 Comments:

lady-be-good said...

greetings little eldon. nice beard. ;) i don't get what the fascination is with the silos, temperature considered. what are ya'll hoping to find in these things?

12:08 AM

Bryce said...

Very cool! I didn't know you had a blog until I ran across your comment on someone elses ;)

The reason for exploring the silos is because they are there and they are cool! It is what has started to be called "urban archaeology", Lots of fun.

11:33 AM

lady-be-good said...

thank you bryce for the insight. urban archaeology... is that like ghetto archaeology? ;)

2:39 PM

Post a Comment

<< Home

Previous Posts

- It has to be the school....
- Another morning....or is it night?
- The nicest one yet...
- More underground labrinths...
- Some class pictures...
- ATLAS D site...
- Getting in trouble....
- October 30, 3005
- Base camp on Mt. Ranier...

About Me

Name:Josh's Mischief Site

Location:Nebraska

View my complete profile

